

EXECUTIVE MOVES

Ticonderoga Securities: Jay Vleeschhouwer, 53, was named senior software analyst and managing director at the institutional broker-dealer. He was most recently a managing director at Merrill Lynch.

WNET.org: Ranfi Rivera, 42, was promoted to executive director of business development and institutional strategy at the parent of New York's public television stations. He had been deputy general counsel, program business affairs.

Invest in France Agency: Philippe Yvergniaux, 51, was appointed president for North America at France's foreign direct investment agency. He was previously chief executive of the agency's office in the United Kingdom.

New York Stage and Film: Nicki Genovese, 45, was appointed managing director at the theater company. She was most recently the general manager of the Public Theater/New York Shakespeare Festival.

Stonehenge Partners Inc.: Richard Dansereau, 49, has joined the firm as managing director in the real estate firm's investment management division. He previously served as president and chief operating officer

See EXECUTIVE MOVES on Page 30

at Cadim.

The Mechanical Contractors Association of New York: Alexander Gettler, 50, was appointed executive vice president. He was most recently vice president of industrial relations and director of human resources at the National Fire Sprinkler Association.

Phoenix House: Deni Carise, 48, joined the nonprofit alcohol and drug abuse treatment and prevention program as chief clinical officer, effective Jan. 1. She will continue in her roles as an adjunct clinical professor at the University of Pennsylvania's department of psychiatry and as director of the treatment systems section at the Treatment Research Institute.

Max Total Benefit Solutions Inc.: David M. Solomons, 40, has formed a boutique employee benefits consulting and brokerage firm and will serve as president. He was previously senior vice president and director of group benefit operations at Wells Fargo Insurance Services of New York Inc.

Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton: Paul W. Garrity, 42, joined the law firm as a partner in the intellectual property practice group. He was most recently a partner at Kelley Drye & Warren.

Blank Rome Government Relations: Ashley E. Davis, 34, was promoted to senior principal from principal at the affiliate of law firm Blank Rome.

S. H. Martin & Co.: Martin Okner, 35, was appointed president and chief executive at the advisory firm. He was most recently director of demand planning at Revlon Inc.

TPN: Christy O'Pella, 39, was promoted to senior vice president of client service at the retail marketing agency. She was formerly group account director.

Bryan Cave: Andrew E. Auerbach, 35, was promoted to partner from associate in the law firm's real estate and banking client service group, effective Jan. 1.

FXFowle Architects: Nicholas Garrison, 51, was promoted to principal at the architecture and design firm. He was most recently a design director.

Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati: Jessica L. Margolis, 34, was promoted to partner at the law firm. She was most recently an associate.
RSM McGladrey Inc.:

Robert McCabill, 61, joined the accounting and business consulting firm as a tax director and senior adviser to the financial institutions practice. He was most recently a tax partner at KPMG.

Gibson Dunn & Crutcher: Alexander Southwell, 38, was promoted to partner in the litigation and white-collar group. He was formerly of counsel at the law firm.

Citizens Committee for New York City: Yovanka Bylander Arroyo, 39, was named president and chief operating officer at the community development and civic action organization. She was previously Northeast regional director at Hispanic Scholarship Fund.

InterContinental The Barclay New York: Mark Speranza, 47, was named director of sales and marketing. He most recently served as vice president of business development at CCK Global Events.

Brooklyn Community Foundation: Philip Li, 49, was appointed chief operating officer at the community development charitable organization. He was most recently a philanthropic services consultant at Changing Our World and executive director at Coro New York Leadership Center.

Active Fire Sprinkler Corp.: Bill Wian, 55, was named vice president of sales at the fire protection organization. He was previously Northeast sales manager at Globe Fire Sprinkler Corp.

National Hockey League: Jordan Katz, 33, was named national sales manager for the NHL Network. He was most recently an account manager at Comcast.

Sonnenschein Nath & Rosenthal: Mark E. Young, 48, joined the law firm as chief marketing officer. He was formerly chief marketing officer at Foley Hoag.

—MAIA BLUME

EXECUTIVE PROMOTIONS

The fastest way to get an announcement into Crain's is to submit details online. Fill out the form at www.crainnewyork.com/submit. The Executive Moves column is also available online.

